What is Hybrid Laminate Flooring?

Hybrid laminate or rigid core flooring features an innovative black core HDF (high-density fiberboard) that enhances its water resistance. This unique composition combines the best qualities of laminate and real wood flooring, offering a robust and versatile solution for various environments.

Construction and Composition

This flooring is constructed from several layers, each contributing to its exceptional performance

Core Layer

At its core is the high-density fiberboard (HDF), a durable and stable material infused with resins, carbon fiber, and other components to enhance its moisture and humidity resistance. The HDF core ensures the flooring's stability and longevity.

Protective Layers

This decor layer is protected by an AC5 category scratch-proof top layer and a wear layer, both of which shield the flooring from scratches, stains, and other damage

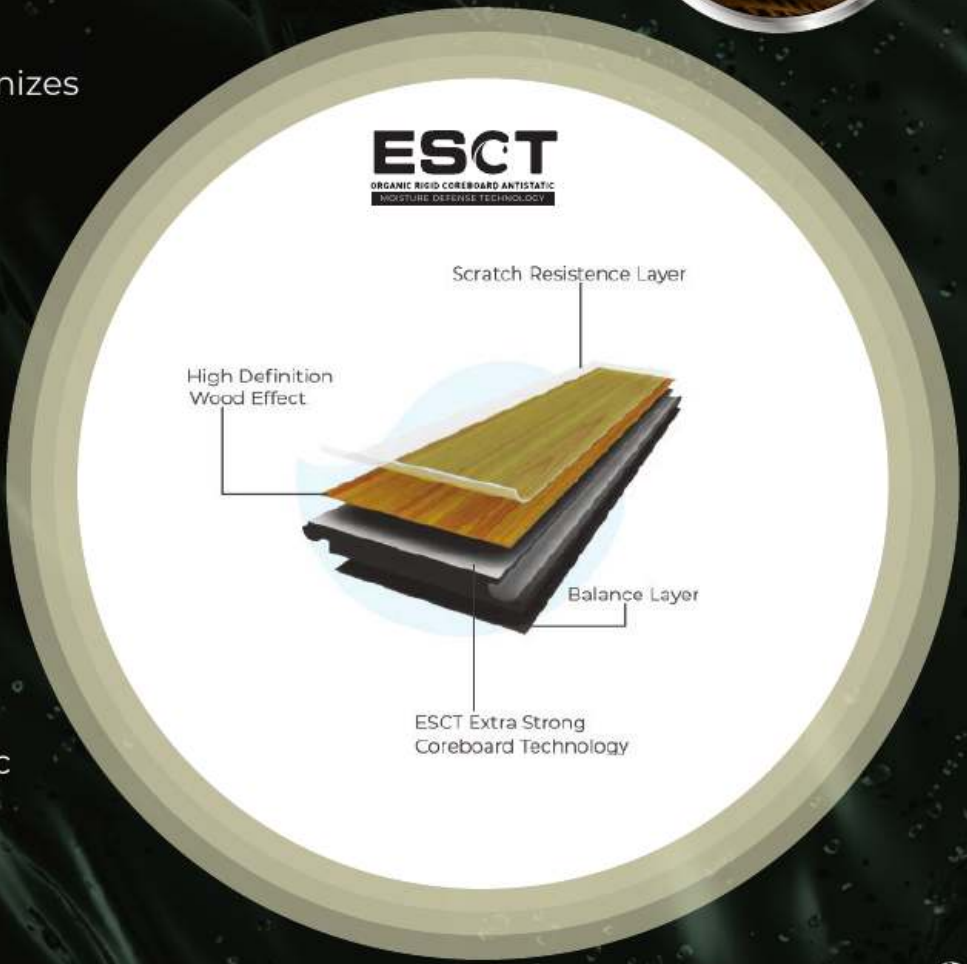

Ideal Applications

Hybrid laminate flooring is an excellent choice for various commercial environments. Its durability & water resistance make it suitable for high-traffic areas such as office lobbies, retail stores, restaurants, and hospitality .

ESCT: Setting the Standard for Tough and Elegant Wooden Floors

ESCT (Extra Strong Coreboard Technology) revolutionizes wooden flooring with exceptional durability and performance. It features a high-density core board made of tightly compressed fibers, creating a dense and sturdy foundation. An innovative moisture defense layer provides extra protection, preventing water from seeping into the core and causing warping or swelling. Combining strength and moisture resistance, long-lasting, beautiful flooring suitable for any environment requiring resilience and elegance and adds aesthetic value to your space. Its Durability and scratch-proof feature ensures that it's a worth an investment.

Durability Redefined: The Carbon Fiber Core Advantage

Oak Artisan offers exceptional durability, making it an ideal choice for high-traffic areas. The core contains carbon fiber, which significantly enhances its strength and stability. This flooring is not only tough and scratch-resistant, thanks to its robust wear layer, but also germ-free, offering a hygienic solution for busy commercial places.

High-Density Excellence:

Transforming Commercial Flooring Standards

Our hybrid laminate flooring is perfect for commercial spaces, offering exceptional durability and scratch-proof surfaces. Constructed with high-density materials, it withstands heavy foot traffic effortlessly. Whether it's an office, retail store, or restaurant, this flooring maintains its pristine appearance even in busy environments. With our scratch-resistant technology, you can trust our flooring to remain stylish and reliable for years to come.

Long-Term Investment with 100+ Hours Spill Proof Protection

Leave behind concerns of unexpected spills and moisture with Oak Artisan. Crafted with cutting-edge spill-free technology, this flooring sets the water and moisture resistance standard. Whether facing accidental spills or high humidity, It boasts unparalleled durability, offering peace of mind and lasting beauty in any commercial environment.
